Application Guidelines

For April 2023 enrollment

“Asian Human Resource Development Project for Medical Professionals”
International Student Special Selection

The Tokyo Metropolitan Government (TMG) has established the “Tokyo Human Resources Fund for City Diplomacy” in 2015, at the prospect of over the next ten years in order to implement policies aiming at fostering excellent human resources who will contribute to the promotion of intercity cooperation in the future.

The Graduate School of Human Health Sciences, Tokyo Metropolitan University (TMU), which is run by the public university corporation founded by the TGM, is recruiting excellent international students from Asia for studying at TMU as “Asian Human Resources Development Project for Medical Professionals” under the “Tokyo Human Resources Fund for City Diplomacy” program. In this project, TMU will admit medical professionals from Asian countries to provide higher education in advanced and innovative health sciences, and thereby to promote the development of medical care in Asian countries. TMU will support Asian human resources in study and research of high health knowledge and skills.

This project provides financial supports including tuition exemption and scholarship for the students who pass the special selective examination to concentrate on their study and research.

Please note that this program is presupposed to be implemented that TMG budget for fiscal year of 2023 is enacted by 31 March 2023.

8 Enrollment Date

1 April 2023

9 Supports for Enrollees

The following financial and living support will be provided to those who have completed the enrollment procedures.

(1) Admission fee

Exempted

(2) Tuition Fees

Exempted for the designated duration of a master's program (for two years)

(3) Scholarship

Students will be provided with a monthly scholarship of 180,000 yen. The period of the scholarship is two years, the designated duration of a master's program.

(4) Travel Expenses

Students will be provided with a one-way ticket (economy-class) from the nearest international airport where they live to either Narita or Haneda International Airport. When students return to their country after receiving a degree, a return ticket (economy-class) from either Narita or Haneda International Airport to the nearest international airport where they came from will be provided. Students need to pay transportation expenses from Narita or Haneda International Airport to the campus, and from the campus to either Narita, or Haneda Airport by themselves.

*If it is difficult to provide the air ticket, the university will support the expense students pay for it.

*The return ticket will not be provided for students who do not fulfill the requirements of degree or withdraw from the university.

(5) Notes

*The scholarship procedure for international students will begin after they have entered Japan. If they are unable to enter Japan due to restrictions imposed by the Japanese government, they will not receive the scholarship during that period.

*If students violate their pledge made at their enrollment or excessively infringe the rules or other regulations of Tokyo Metropolitan University, the university shall expel them from the university and discontinue the aforementioned financial supports. The university may also demand a refund of paid scholarship as financial supports depending on the situation.

*In addition to the above, if students take a leave of absence from the university or neglect the monthly confirmation of the enrollment, the university may suspend the payment of financial supports such as "exemption of tuition fees" and "monthly scholarship."

*If students wish to live with their family, Tokyo Metropolitan University is not able to provide any help with family matters. Students need to be responsible for all procedures regarding their family.

10 Duties after the graduation

Students must contribute to development of relationships between Tokyo and international cities abroad with the knowledge and technology learned during their program at Tokyo Metropolitan University, cooperate in the formation of a Japan-friendly human resource network of highly skilled professionals and contribute to promoting a better mutual understanding/friendship between Tokyo and overseas cities.
